

The FCC is charged with ensuring that our public airwaves remain the property of the American people, and yet pressure from media corporations may persuade the FCC to alter media ownership rules so that any given media interest might control a larger number of community news and information sources. Don't forget the debacle of deregulation of Energy, deregulation of savings and loans and deregulation of radio. Please keep us a free America.